You are sitting in your yard reading your morning paper when you hear a group of armed thugs coming over the fence. When you begin dispatching them, you hear cries for help from your loved ones inside the house. House-Clearing 101 begins, but as you open the garage door you are hit a crushing blow to your gun hand. You persevere and dispatch the last two skulls with skills you have practiced playing the IDPA game at the range down by the sewer ponds.
